

1905-1907 JI Case built the 150, the largest steam traction road locomotive ever built.

2018 an exact replica of the 150 Case steam traction locomotive is built.

What is the Tri-state Antique Engine and Thresher Show? It is over 65 years of experience demonstrating a way of life that was lived by your rural grandparents, great-grandparents or your kids great, great grandparents. We use antique equipment that sometimes breaks down, but, it is amazing to watch in it's complexity for a time period that really didn't have much to work with. We do this on 40 acres using a portion of our 200 antique tractors some rare some not. We use the giants of the era, in the form of 15 steam engines on various jobs. We display and use antique cars and trucks for some of our jobs. You can see collections of barbwire, toys, tools and household appliances and furnishing. It's a busy day/ weekend with many things to see and do. It was a slower way of life and a hard way of life.
